Timetable I

- Week 1 Introduction
- Week 2 Concepts
- Week 3 Representation
- Week 4 Transmission of Norms
- Week 5 Causes: Cultural Legacies
- Week 6 No Session (Whitsun Holidays)
- Week 7 Causes: Institutions
- Week 8 Causes: Demand Side

Timetable II

- Week 9 Causes: Supply Side
- Week 10 No Session (EPSS Conference)
- Week 11 Gender Quotas
- Week 12 Visit by Simone Wendland
- Week 13 Role Models
- Week 14 Cultural Conditions
- Week 15 Projects and Wrap-Up

Usually, there is one compulsory reading per week. In addition, there are complementary readings which give you a more encompassing perspective on the topic.

Course Infrastructure

- Communication and literature via Learnweb (please check your mails, password: gap_26)
 - Literature research via ULB Münster, Google Scholar, or Web of Science
 - Access to most articles via the WiFi network of the University of Münster, from home via VPN
 - For an intro into the university library: Library Audiotour
- Slides on my website

Requirements I

Workload

One ECTS point represents max. 30 actual hours of real workload by the student.¹

Example calculation:

$$\rightarrow 30 \times 4 = 120 \text{ hours}$$

Participation in the course:

$$1.5 \times 13 = 19.5 \text{ hours}$$

Preparation and follow-up of the course + term paper

$$120 - 19.5 = 100.5 \text{ hours}$$

Requirements II

- Regular attendance and participation
- Prior engagement with the session literature
- Submit three questions on the literature in two different sessions
- 'Connecting-Thoughts' essay
- Term paper on your own research project

Requirements III

- Studienleistungen: Questions about the literature and 'Connecting-Thoughts' essay
- Prüfungsleistung: Term paper

Partial requirements 1 I

Engagement with session literature and questions

For all sessions

- read and engage with the session literature in advance
- make notes
- raise questions whenever something remained unclear

Partial requirements 1 II

Engagement with session literature and questions

For two sessions of your choice

- develop three questions on the session literature (on one or more readings)
- questions should go beyond clarification questions; rather questions about the consistency of an argument, the chosen design or possible implications of the research
- each of the questions should be briefly elaborated
- submit on Monday, 23:59 before the session

Partial requirements 1 III

Engagement with session literature and questions

- during the session, we'll work on the readings: you serve as a moderator for your own question (so you need to show up!)
- submission not possible for sessions 1-4, 12 and 15

Partial requirements 2 I

Connecting-Thoughts Essay

For one session of your choice, you are asked to read the main and one of the complementary readings and write a short essay.

The two-page essay should...

1. ...briefly (max. 3/4 page) summarize the complementary reading
2. ...relate it to the main reading (similarities and differences)
3. ...what do we learn from the complementary reading? (relate it to an ongoing social debate, add a newspaper source that illustrates the debate)

Partial requirements 2 II

Connecting-Thoughts Essay

During the seminar, you will serve as expert and moderator. This means that you will...

- ...guide through a small-group discussion
- ...pose the questions submitted by your peers
- ...give the group (and the class) input on the complementary reading

Partial requirements 3 I

Term paper

- if you need to submit a Prüfungsleistung, you are asked to submit a term paper by 30 September 2026 at the latest
- length: 5,000 words \pm 10 percent (excluding table of contents, bibliography, and cover page) \rightarrow depends on your Prüfungsordnung
- Choose your own topic, develop research hypotheses and propose an empirical design strategy
- Standard format of an empirical paper: Introduction (incl. research question and motivation), literature review, theory section, case selection, data and method, conclusion \rightarrow you are not required to implement your design

Partial requirements 3 II

Term paper

- Pay attention to the correct citation style (guidelines, for example, here); Training on Zotero can be requested at the University Library
- Submission as a .pdf-file

Plagiarism I

“The act of plagiarism is fulfilled when in written study and examination performances ”texts of third parties are taken in whole or in part, literally or nearly literally, and presented as one’s own scholarly work.” This practice ”not only contradicts good scientific practice, but it is also a form of intellectual theft and thus a violation of copyright.”

IfPol: Resolution by the German Association of University Professors and Lecturers

Plagiarism II

There are different types of plagiarism

- Plagiarism of whole work
- Citation without proper referencing
- Translation plagiarism
- Self plagiarism
- Ghostwriting

In case there is any suspicion of plagiarism, we will check the submission with the plagiarism detection Turnitin.

On the use of AI I

AI tools have facilitated various aspects of our lives. Can we use them in this seminar? Yes.

- Be transparent about the use of AI
- Be the human in the loop: AI output depends on its input; bad input = bad output
- If AI is hallucinating, you'll be responsible for it
- I cannot accept output which is entirely written by AI
- Useful tools:
 - Chat: Uni-GPT, Mistral AI, Duck AI
 - Research: Elicit, Consensus, Connected Papers, Research Rabbit

On the use of AI II

And, in general, in and outside the seminar:

- Take an AI vacation day. Before prompting anything to AI, how would you approach the research topic? Read the literature, write down notes, sketch a potential research question and your expectations about it.

Inclusion

We want to establish an open and inclusive culture in this seminar.

- Less relevant in English, but gender-sensitive language is used whenever possible in seminar communication
 - Studies on why it is useful to break the generic masculine: Tavits and Pérez (2019) and Verweken et al. (2013)
- You are welcome to share your pronouns.
- There is no place for racism, sexism, homo- or transphobia here.
- We learn together: all types questions are legitimate and welcomed, and knowledge gaps are no reason to feel ashamed.

...and an inequality in political demands

How would you describe this pattern? What might be the implication for representation?

Our guiding (normative) questions

We will discuss a lot of empirics. But all of them have normative implications.

While reading, consider these overarching questions formulated by Pamela P. Paxton (2008)

- Can men represent women?
- Are there such things like women's issues?
- How do female paths to power differ from male political careers?
- What would help women to get into political office? Should we aim to facilitate their inclusion?

Forensics I

Forensics II

Nature or Nurture? In this seminar, we focus on how the social environment creates gender inequalities:

- Emphasis on social learning, how do individuals develop gender norms?
- In session 4, we'll shed light on norm transmission.

Cultural Legacies I

What does this have to do with gender inequality?

The rules of the game

And nowadays?

In which spheres of the political process do you expect gender discrimination to occur?

- On the voter-level: gender-biased evaluation of female candidates
- On the party-level: gendered selection processes
- On the candidate-level: gendered career paths

How to solve these issues?

We'll look at three instruments that may help to facilitate women's access to political power

- quotas and other institutional arrangements
- role models
- cultural factors

Do any other instruments come into your mind?

To prepare for next week... I

- Reading of the syllabus
 - Is there anything missing?
 - Do you have additional literature suggestions? Or would you prefer to switch some of the main/complementary readings?
 - Do you have any further questions about the seminar requirements?
